Headline:
Gales, severe around the coasts over the weekend.

Today:
Mild, mostly dry but cloudy start across Speyside. Heavy rain across the west Highlands spreads east with strong southwest winds, coastal gales. Rain clears to sunshine and showers in the afternoon. Winds turning westerly, severe gales across Western Isles later. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Frequent blustery showers overnight, merging to give a few hours of more persistent rain across Caithness. Strong to gale force winds, severe gales with locally storm force winds around coasts. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
Outbreaks of rain across Caithness and Sutherland, turning to showers in the afternoon. Drier and brighter further south. Gales or severe gales in the morning, gradually easing through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Turning wet, windy and mild on Monday. Remaining windy with coastal gales and showers on Tuesday and Wednesday, temperatures nearer normal for mid-November.
